Grand Knight's Report

Brother Knights and Families

“My daughter, tell the whole world about My inconceivable mercy. I desire that the Feast of Mercy be a refuge and shelter for all souls, and especially for poor sinners. On that day the very depths of My tender mercy are open. I pour out a whole ocean of graces upon those souls who approach the fount of My mercy. The soul that will go to Confession and receive Holy Communion shall obtain complete forgiveness of sins and punishment. On that day, all the divine floodgates through which grace flows are opened. Let no soul fear to draw near to Me, even though its sins be as scarlet. My mercy is so great that no mind, be it of man or of angel, will be able to fathom it throughout all eternity. Everything that exists has come forth from the very depths of My most tender mercy. Every soul in its relation to Me will contemplate My love and mercy throughout eternity. The Feast of Mercy emerged from My very depths of tenderness. It is My desire that it be solemnly celebrated on the First Sunday after Easter. Mankind will not have peace until it turns to the Fount of My Mercy.” --The Lord Jesus Christ to St. Faustina Kowalska

Divine Mercy Sunday is a relatively new addition to the Liturgical Calendar that is celebrated on the Second Sunday of Easter. It is based on the private revelations of St. Faustina Kowalska, which recommended a particular devotion to the Divine Mercy. To ensure that the faithful would observe this day with intense devotion, Pope Saint John Paul II established that this Sunday be enriched by a plenary indulgence (explained below) so that the faithful might receive in great abundance the gift of the consolation of the Holy Spirit.

A plenary indulgence is granted under the usual conditions (sacramental confession, Eucharistic communion, and prayer for the intentions of the Supreme Pontiff) to the faithful who, on the Second Sunday of Easter (Divine Mercy Sunday), in any church or chapel, in a spirit that is completely detached from the affection for a sin, even a venial sin, take part in the prayers and devotions held in honor of Divine Mercy, or who, in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament exposed or reserved in the tabernacle, recite the Our Father and the Creed, adding a devout prayer to the merciful Lord Jesus (e.g. “Merciful Jesus, I trust in you!”).

In my humble opinion, Divine Mercy Sunday is the single greatest opportunity throughout the year to wipe the stain of sin off our souls and to remove the punishments after death that await us due to those sins. I don't believe the Church (big 'C') does a good job of promoting this feast day, so I want to ensure that you are aware of it. Please try to understand it and plan accordingly with the time you have remaining between now and April 7th. “Where sin increased, grace abounded all the more (Rom 5:20).”

Two congratulations are in order. First, Brother Alan and Carol Schindler were selected by Supreme as the Texas Family of the Month for February! Second, Leyton Parrot was selected by the state of Texas as the 1st Place winner for the Kindergarten age group in the Keep Christ in Christmas poster contest. Yeehaw! Council 6358 is very proud of these great accomplishments by members of our family and community!

Natural phenomenon alerts. First, we have entered tornado season, so put some thought into being prepared. This site offers some good information to help you - <https://survive-a-storm.com/shelters/texas/>. Second, there will be a total solar eclipse on 8 April at approximately 1:30 PM CST. The last time a total solar eclipse was viewable from Texas was 28 May 1900, back when Tony Paulson and Tom Wilson were still in diapers. As with Divine Mercy Sunday, plan ahead to take advantage of this rare opportunity.

Thank you again to all Brothers, Ladies, and family members for all your hard work during Lent and the relentless rhythm of weekly fish fries. Enjoy the well-earned rest that the Triduum and Easter bring and use the time you get back to focus on your family and your faith. Happy Easter to each of you and your families!

Please pray for the canonization of Blessed Father Michael McGivney and continue to spread his mission by sharing the Knights' opportunity with every Catholic man you can.

Spiritual Practices and Devotions for April

The month of April is traditionally dedicated to the Holy Eucharist. Consider adding the following to your spiritual practices this month:

- Prepare your heart: arrive 5 minutes early to each Mass to contemplate Jesus' gift of himself.
- Give thanks: offer 5 minutes of prayerful praise after each Mass and pray the Anima Christi.
- Be with Our Lord: spend 30 extra minutes every week outside of Mass sitting or kneeling before the Blessed Sacrament.

Eucharistic Revival

- Pray the Rosary the 13th of each month for the success of the Revival and an increase in devotion to Christ in the Eucharist.
- Find and practice another Eucharistic devotion.

Divine Mercy Sunday (April 7): Pope St John Paul II designated the 2nd Sunday of Easter as Divine Mercy Sunday. Take some time to watch the Knights of Columbus film The Face of Mercy (kofc.org/mercy) and pray the Divine Mercy Chaplet each day from Good Friday thru the Saturday within the Octave of Easter in preparation.

Annunciation (April 8): The Annunciation, when the Angel Gabriel announced to Mary that she would give birth to the Messiah and Mary said yes to God's plan, is a solemnity, the highest type of feast in the year. Celebrate the Annunciation by praying the Joyful Mysteries of the Rosary or reading the account of the Annunciation in the Gospel of Luke (Luke 1: 26-38).

St. Mark the Evangelist (April 25): The Gospel of Mark is the shortest Gospel, and it relates Jesus' ministry at a very fast pace. To honor St. Mark, read and reflect on Mark 1:9-20.

Lecturer’s Report Unless A Grain of Wheat Falls (John12:24)

Brothers,

We have passed the halfway mark of Lent as we continue our journey to Holy Week and Easter Sunday. At the start of Lent many Catholics observe the practice of “giving something up” as a small sacrifice to remind us of the sacrifice made by Jesus for each of us.

Sometimes the “something” we gave up, only to resume on Easter Sunday, is something that perhaps should have been left to die and not resumed on Easter Sunday or any day for that matter.

In John’s Gospel, 12:24, we hear Jesus say: “Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies it produces much fruit. “We know that Jesus is speaking of himself. But there is another way, a practical way, we can apply this verse to ourselves. That is, to realize that there may be a part of who we are, something of our personal character, that needs to die. A bad habit, a toxic attitude, a repeated temptation to a specific sin. There are numerous possibilities.

To lay something aside for 40 days and then resume may not be bad. If a person gives up something benign and it is truly a sacrifice for that individual, the idea behind a Lenten sacrifice can be meaningful. A diehard Spurs fan, for instance, who gives up watching any Spurs games during Lent... that might be a true sacrifice. But let’s go deeper.

For most of us, if not all of us, giving something up for a specific period of time, whether 4 days or 40 days, knowing that at the end of this period of time we’ll be able to resume whatever it was we abstained from, we can endure that time period because we know it is for a limited time only.

But what if we gave up something in our personal character that is destructive to ourselves or to the loved ones around us, and we don’t see it as temporary denial of self but instead intend to let that part of us die, never to be resumed, is the reward worth the sacrifice? This involves “dying to self”.

Over the years I’ve known men who gave up the following for Lent:

- a man who gave up using foul language in front of his wife, children or grandchildren;
- a man who gave up making his wife the butt of his jokes;
- a man who gave up drinking alcohol;
- a man who gave up watching any form of pornography

Each of these men gave up those things just for the 40-day period of Lent. The first one immediately went back to using foul language regardless of who was within hearing; the second one resumed making his wife the butt of his jokes; the third one resumed drinking and was the type of man who became loud, obnoxious, and, sometimes, violent when drinking; and the final one confided in me that he didn’t make it through Lent without looking at porn again, which definitely affected his relationship with his wife of 30+ years.

“Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains a grain of wheat.” I’d like to paraphrase that: “Unless a character flaw or a destructive behavior is removed from one’s self and dies, it remains a character flaw or a destructive behavior.” And who suffers the most? The loved ones. Wife, children, grandchildren, siblings, parents, etc. But mostly, the one who refuses to let these things die. He may not realize it, but these types of things can create prison walls around us, leaving us longing to be set free.

In no way do I imply that dying to self is easy. In fact, it can be one of the most difficult transformations in our lives. But when we realize the amount of time and attention we give to these types of character flaws or destructive behaviors, when we realize that we are creating our own personal prisons, perhaps we realize that these things are robbing us of the time that could be given to more positive and constructive behaviors.

But it requires death. Not physical death, but emotional, psychological, mental, and, yes, even spiritual death to self. Or at least to a specific area of our lives.

“Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies it produces much fruit.” Let me repeat that last part: “...but if it dies it produces much fruit.”

What kind of fruit can come forth when we let a negative part of ourselves die? It depends on the person and what it is that dies. Let me go back to the four men who confided in me as mentioned earlier:

- the who gave up using foul language could learn how to express himself in more constructive ways and in the process, teach his children and grandchildren how to express themselves in a more respectful manner, thereby gaining more respect from others;
- the man who gave up making his wife the butt of his jokes could have taken a more biblical approach and used language to build up his wife, to unashamedly let everyone know how proud he was of his wife and build her up rather than tear her down;
- the man who gave up drinking alcohol could have come to realize his own self-worth and self-esteem to give himself credit for overcoming all the destructive behaviors and perhaps have a positive ripple effect, a domino effect, in numerous areas of his life that could positively influence the next one, two, or three generations of his family;
- the man addicted to pornography could have begun to fully realize and appreciate the gift God gave him in his wife; seeing her through the eyes of a holy and virtuous man whose vision was not clouded by the lie that pornography is

So, we are nearing the end of Lent. I encourage all of us to take a look within ourselves and ask, “Is there anything about me that needs to die. Now is the time to take the necessary steps.” Or, maybe better yet, to sit down with our wives or other loved ones and be courageous enough to ask them to be brutally honest and let them tell us what needs to die

We take it to prayer. Perhaps we need to go to the Sacrament of Reconciliation first. And then we ask the Holy Spirit not just to give us strength to die to whatever is, but to actually BE our strength. And what does that cost us? Our pride. To be able to say I cannot do it alone and I need God to help me.

“...but if it dies it produces much fruit.” As we watch that part of ourselves die, we can look into the faces of those who truly love us and in their eyes we realize they see the fruit beginning to blossom, perhaps before we do.

What Godly fruit awaits you? What Godly fruit awaits me? Only God really knows but let’s embrace this new life with great expectation... the expectation that God will only produce in each of us the finest of fruit.

This Month’s Challenge

“By this is my Father glorified, that you bear much fruit and become my disciples.” (Gospel for April 28, Jn 15:8). Have you noticed the progression in the challenges over the past months? If we recognize who Jesus truly is, we must listen to him and serve him. We have St. Joseph as a true model of that faithful service and discipleship. Now we are told that the father is glorified through our discipleship and the fruit we bear. By being faithful disciples of Christ, may we bear much fruit and so glorify the Father.

Challenge by Supreme Chaplain Archbishop William E. Lori

This month, I ask you to prayerfully ask yourself if you are bearing much fruit as a disciple of Christ and then identify and undertake one way you can be more fruitful.

Questions for Reflection

- What fruit do you currently bear – in your marriage and family, in your relationships at work or among friends, and in the broader community?
- Are you mindful of the needs of those around you and the opportunities they present to bear fruit?
- Are there things you can do to become still more fruitful in your Christian witness?

Pope Francis’ Prayer Intention: FOR THE ROLE OF WOMEN

Let us pray that the dignity and worth of women be recognized in every culture, and for an end to the discrimination they face in various parts of the world.

Ladies Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary has had great success with our baked good sales at the Lenten Fish Fry events each week during Lent. The proceeds will go toward our scholarships we will be awarding in May as well as some of our other charity donations. We have a busy month ahead. Our monthly meeting is April 2 with the rosary beginning at 6:00. We will be electing officers for the next two-year term. We are also busy helping get things ready for the KC Casino Night on April 6. Get your tickets and come enjoy yourself. There are some great Silent Auction items and game prizes. We will also be serving bakery items at the Military Memorabilia event later in the month. Ladies, we invite you to come be part of our group.
